ACTION TAKEN REPORT

1. INSTITUTIONAL VIEWS ON LEARNER CENTRIC EDUCATION

- a) ABC (Academic Bank of credit) offers learners greater choice and flexibility in choosing courses
- b) ABC helps students in various ways e.g Customized Learning, Supports Student Mobility, Collaborative Processes, Promotes Employability, Diverse Options for students,
- c) A student can avail multiple entry and exit options in higher education institutions and opt for a tailor-made degree. They can choose to study one course a year in one institution and switch to another one the next year. This exercise will reduce time commitment, which lowers the risk of student dropout
- d) ABC can promote and facilitate inter-institutional partnerships, thereby elevating quality in education.
- e) Students may find it difficult to change colleges from different universities.
- f) The university or the college a student studies in also makes a difference in terms of the name and quality of education provided.
- g) Only (NAAC) graded institutions can join the Academic Bank of Credit. It may push the already remote institutions to become more marginalized.
- h) There can be conflict of interests between different states governed by different political parties in restructuring their policies to enable ABC
- i) Providing additional seats to students under ABC in premier institutes which already have high demand would incur additional costs for institutions
- j) It promote lack of specialization in any field.
- k) There's a famous phrase – "Master of all trades, Jack of none." However, if you have gained knowledge of everything, but haven't achieved expertise in one skill that matters the most, then there's no use of other skills as well. Your students need to have expertise in one domain that they like. With multi-disciplinary college education, faculties have to be extra careful when they evaluate the students' performance. They need to ensure that their students achieve mastery in one domain at least.

To be precise, under the ABC, a student can earn a degree from any HEI, with multiple entry and exit options. Instead of spending three years in one college, a student can seamlessly switch over from one college to another one. In order to earn a degree, a student will now require to hold a certain number of credits under his or her account.
